

Quality Managerin / Quality Manager

(Part-time work and Homeoffice possible)

LAPP Tec AG is a company of the German LAPP Group and is based in Diessenhofen / TG. With 50 employees, we develop, produce and sell sophisticated plastic injection molding solutions for the LAPP Group and for other international customers outside the group.

In order to implement our guiding principle "From the idea to series production - partner for sophisticated injection molding solutions", we rely on the highest quality standards, both in production and in project management.

To strengthen our team, we are looking for a colleague as Head of Quality Management / Management System.

You will support the management in ensuring and developing a functioning management system. You will also be responsible for the implementation and further development of various certification standards.

In your function you are the contact person for compliance management. You will also coordinate and initiate projects of the LAPP Tec Lean Management Program (LOS - LAPP Operation Systems).

We expect a technical vocational training with a degree from a university of applied sciences; a degree from a technical university is desirable.

Professional experience in an industrial production environment, including activities in quality management, is required. In-depth knowledge of the plastics industry and the food industry would be an advantage.

You have proven knowledge of ISO 9001 and ISO 14001, other such as BRC, FSSC 22000, ISO 40001, ISO 50001 or IATF 16949 are helpful. A qualification as auditor is expressly desired.

Further training in process improvement methods, problem-solving techniques, modern quality tools and project management round off the profile.

A very good knowledge of German and English, both spoken and written, is required, as is a practiced use of a PC and an ERP system.

We have set ourselves the goal of increasing the proportion of women in management positions. Female candidates with equal qualifications are preferred.

We are looking forward to receiving your application and are at your disposal for further information!

Please send your applications by e-mail to Mr. Remo Kohler, Head of Human Resources – bewerbung@lapptec.ch
